Great work,
Joe!

Main Idea: This story was about Frank and Joe Hardy that solved a mystery with some help of Chet, their buddy, and Mr. Carpenter, an engineer.

The mystery was that the reservoir on Skull Mountain lost its water every night!

Keep up the great ideas and initiative.

Climax: The climax of this story is when Frank, Joe, and Chet found the thieves. These thieves stole the water from an underground passage.

My Favorite Character: I liked Chet because he wasn't brave enough to do some of the things Frank and Joe did, but he did the best he could!

Why it's Called Skull Mountain: The Hardy Boys named it Skull Mountain because the thieves were skull collectors. They didn't want the Hardy Boys to find them, so they put skulls in several places around the mountain to try to scare them away, but didn't scare them enough to stop searching!
